THE ARTIST

A voice in full bloom

Some voices arrive. Others return with something more to say.

Lady Holly returns to the musical landscape not to reclaim who she once was, but to reveal who she has become. An award-winning independent recording artist, songwriter and poet, she pours a lifetime of love, loss, joy and discovery into her music.

Her artistry challenges the notion that talent has an expiration date, setting a new standard for what aging, creative freedom and musical excellence can look like.

This is more than a comeback. This is a creative renaissance.
